Our unique value-added services are a direct result of the can-do attitude that permeates the culture at SDI LaFarga COPPERWORKS. We operate with an eye for opportunities, always searching for ways

PRODUCT CHOICES

SDI LaFarga COPPERWORKS is fully equipped to meet the industry demand for quality copper rod and wire. We added a new furnace in 2020, expanding our product offering to include Elemental™

(ETP) copper rod. We utilize virgin copper cathodes, so it meets the highest industry standards and specifications for the most demanding applications.

HEDGING SERVICES

If there's one thing we all know about the copper market, it's volatile. Copper pricing fluctuates, sometimes wildly. That means from the time you quote a project to the time you start it, the price of copper could drop, leaving you to make up the difference out of pocket. The hedging services at SDI LaFarga COPPERWORKS™ can remove the risk by locking in the price of copper rod and wire at the time a project is quoted, thereby removing the risk and letting you keep your focus where it counts—on the job.

"Since we've been working with SDI LaFarga COPPERWORKS, we've been able to better navigate the bidding process, which can be quite tricky. Their hedging services save us money and give us greater confidence in our quotes."

to advise them on the most efficient ways to use our products and help develop new and innovative processes. The result? Our customers have a specialist they can rely on for all their copper needs. It's uniquely SDI LaFarga COPPERWORKS.
